

Freeland Road Bridge Postponed

The Michigan Department of Transportation has postponed the rehabilitation of the Freeland Rd., Bridge until the summer of 2011.

The construction will take place between the last day of school and Labor Day. A seven week construction schedule is anticipated.

Watch this site for updates and further information as it becomes available.